

Article 375: Thy Soul -part 3

Is it possible that an eternal privilegedbeing is limited and restricted? ...and at the time is not limited or restricted? Does that make any sense to you? Then, can you see that choosing how you will be alive and always and only being that choice “limits and restricts” you to that choice? ...yet, this merely declares who you are ...and does not limit or restrict you, ...actually, declaring how you will be alive and always and only living that opens the world and eternal knowing to you.

Eternal privilegedbeings and thy soul come alive and prosper in an environment of separate individual “things”, they thrive on particulars and details, on variety, on events and circumstances, on the meaning and promise that all things are, and on the depth and dimension of all things. For example, have you ever watched a television show and thought much about the actors’ animating spirit ...or the immaterial force permeating the physical person portrayed on the screen? Probably not! ...because on the screen the actors have no real life or depth, and you know that any profoundness they seem to portray isn’t genuine either, ...yet, meet these same people face-to-face and everything changes and offers you a different perspective ...and comes to life. In much the same way, though a privilegedbeing named Soul creates you on the flat-screen of mind, and you are different and separate, you bring Soul to life ...and enliven that life.

There is an ancient belief that what you name you possess! ...as a result, ancient people were frequently forbidden to speak the name of god ...so as to ensure that there was no attempt to possess or limit god, ...instead, god was referred to by title, such as “The Almighty”, “Father”, “Lord”, “Alpha and Omega”, “God of Our Fathers”, “The Holy One”, “YHWH”, “Adonai”, “Abba”, “He who has no name”, “Yahweh”, and “Jehovah”.

In Genesis, chapter 2, it is written that “out of the ground the LORD God formed every beast of the field, and every fowl of the air; and brought them unto Adam to see what he would call them: and whatsoever Adam called every living creature, that was the name there of”. In this, do you see that God was giving Adam dominion over all things of this world?

Previously, I particularized and described soul as a privilegedbeing and cautioned you not to possess this soul or privilegedbeing by referring to your soul or your privilegedbeing ...but to use “thy” instead because “thy” indicates that you are the object or receptor of an action, which you are! ...for you receive your life and being from a privilegedbeing which is thy soul.

Years ago, I had a rifle named Betsy a car called Old Blue, an axe named Woodchopper, an important drawing pencil that was Short Green, and I still have a truck referred to as Jake. Contrary to ancient beliefs, by naming these things ...I disposed them and set them free, for instead of referring to my rifle, car, axe, and pencil ...or my truck, they were referred to as Betsy, Old Blue, Woodchopper, Short Green, and Jake; ...they were still mine, or more-appropriately ...I received benefits from these things, but I didn't possess them. Consider naming all the important things in your life so that you are not possessed by your possessions; ...you have these things and receive benefits from them ...but you do not possess them.

Consider the dangers involved in referring to my wife ...or my husband, ...you are using this phrase to identify which wife or husband ...and you claim you do not possess that person ...that you support your partner being his or her own person, but this phrase denotes possession ...and constant use ensures an attitude of possession ...which results feelings of being possessed in your partner; ...refer to your intimate-partner, even in mind, by name ...or by an intimate-name.

Thy soul is a privilegedbeing named Soul!

Now you can refer to Soul without possession, which sets they soul free and protects you from being possessed by your possessions ...or, of course, you can give they privilegedbeing an intimately personal name of meaning that is important to you, ...a name that enlivens special feelings, awarenesses, desires.

An eternal privilegedbeing called Soul is not learning, growing, and developing, Soul is deciding how it wants to live and express how it has declared it will be alive eternally ...which of course is the basis of Forever Living in asking you to test your words and actions as to whether you would be willing to be and live them forever ...and have them done to you forever and ever.

In determining how Soul (eternal privilegedbeing) wants to live and express itself eternally, it mindfully generates experiences and particulars to realize and live and express forever, for until that is determined, Soul does not manifest directly ...lest it lose its eternalness, ...therefore, we can declare that you are a particular image-experience of an eternal privilegedbeing named Soul ...who carries a record of all you and other images (reincarnations) have ever been, done, and expressed ...and everything you are, such as knowledge, talents and abilities, personality, images, hopes and desires ...and even unwanted matters; ...Soul carries this as separate data•information (which is also the way your brain stores memories) not complete events or happenings, so this data•information can be constantly reassembled as Soul desires, chooses to be alive, and promises.

You are not subject to karma, bound by previous actions or activities, limited by old conditions or circumstances, or confined by past events, ...the problem is that you, living and following the distorted pattern and structure of languaging, reassemble this separate data•information in memory in the same way ...over and over again, ...while Soul, which can also be known by the name innerself, and which uses languaging only for describing, is free of self-imposed language distortions and limitations.

If you want to live as a memorably free eternal privilegedbeing called Soul ...and not merely as a fleeting thought•dream•idea•experience struggling endlessly with and against good•evil-languaging, then it is vital that, like an eternal privilegedbeing called Soul, you use data•information to happen self-evidently to life as you would be and live forever ...instead of languaging yourself to life in the same distorted way over and over and over.

What do you believe is the difference between you and a rock? You are both made of the same material: “the dust of the ground” ...which is stardust, but a rock is a rock ...and you are you, so what’s the difference? A rock waits for life to happen ...while you can happen to life, ...what is the difference in this? Could it be that you can show the Stardust Universe what it can be?

Of course, if you don’t happen to life as you choose you will be alive ...and show the Stardust Universe what it can be ...or really is, if you wait for life to happen to you, ...aren’t you stardust living like a rock? And if you move around in life to experience this or sense•react•respond that, like climbing Kilimanjaro or diving to the bottom of the ocean, aren’t you still living like a rock ...at the top of Kilimanjaro or at the bottom of the ocean? You are languaging yourself to a rock!

Fortunately, realizing that your past is data•information, not languaged memories of events and circumstances ...and being reborn with a new script of showing the universe the eternal privilegedbeing that stardust really is, begins with your declaring how, as stardust, you will be alive ...and always and only being and living that self-evidently as you desire forever and ever.
